Dear Colleague,

Enclosed with this letter is the 1979 Alabama Official and Statistical Register. Most of the material for this Register had been assembled by the late Director of the Department of Archives and History, Milo B. Howard, Jr. His illness through four months of 1981 and his death at the end of that year prevented a more timely completion of this volume. Following my appointment in July, 1982, three staff members of the Archives worked together to complete Mr. Howard's work--Alice Berta, Sarah Ann Warren, and Emily Adams. We recognize that information about state officers is not current, but believe that there are many portions of this book that will be of ongoing reference value to you.

Sincerely,

Ed C Bridges

PREFACE

Under the authority contained in a legislative act of February 27, 1901 which created the Alabama Department of Archives and History, the 1979 edition of the Alabama Official and Statistical Register, has been prepared and published:

> "...an official and statistical register of the State of Alabama shall be compiled every two years by the director, to contain (1) brief sketches of the several State officials, the members of Congress from Alabama, the supreme court judges, the members of the senate and house of representatives of the State of Alabama; (2) rosters of all State and County officials; (3) lists of all institutions, with officials; (4) State and County population statistics; and (5) miscellaneous statistics; and said register shall be published in an edition of one thousand copies for free distribution, the printing and binding hereinbefore provided." (Acts, 1900-1901, #476, p. 130.)

In 1919 the publication period was changed from two years to four years by legislative appropriational and budgetary adjustments, and has allowed the Register to be published by quadrennial gubernatorial administrations. It has never been changed by statute.

The Register presents in narrative and statistical form the governmental organization of Alabama with informational data regarding its affairs and services. All names and dates are drawn from authoritative or official sources. Only facts regarded to be reliable have been admitted.

Known in many states as "blue books," reference works of this character are regarded as of first importance. We hope that this volume will be of use and value, and that it will be a permanent contribution to the literature of Alabama. The last edition was dated in 1975.

The editor thanks the Archives staff members who aided in research and helped with the Register's compilation and development. Sarah Ann Warren was given the responsibility of revamping the Register and researching the history of the various chapters. Emily S. Adams helped in compiling the data in Chapter II. Appreciation goes to the Alabama Bureau of Publicity and Information and the Alabama Development Office for allowing the use of their illustrations of the "Camellia" and "Pine Tree;" to the Landmarks Foundation of Montgomery, Alabama for the use of its illustrations of the "State Capitol" and the "Governor's Mansion;" the latter two sketches drawn by Thomas Connor of Montgomery for the Landmarks Foundation.

CHAPTER I

EMBLEMS, HONORS AND HISTORICAL REVIEW

By the very reason of the creation and development of a state or commonwealth the everyday events and personalities create its symbols, honors and history. The early colonies and territories evolved into a geographical entity called, Alabama; within its borders is found a rich, vast and everchanging landscape of farms, forests, rivers, towns, cities, industries and people.

THE NAME, ALABAMA

The etymology of the word or name, Alabama, has evoked much discussion among American philological researchers. It was the name of a noted southern Indian tribe whose habitat when first known to Europeans was in what is now central Alabama. One of the major waterways in the state received its name from this tribe, and from this river in turn the name of the state was derived. The tribal name of Alabama is spelled in various ways by the early Spanish, French and British chroniclers: Alabama, Albama, Alebamon, Alibama, Alibamou, Alibamon, Alabamu, and Allibamou. The name first occurs in three of the accounts of the DeSoto Expedition of 1540; written Alibamo by Garcillasso de la Vega, Alibamu by the Knight of Elvas and Limamu by Rodrigo Ranjel. In the last form the initial vowel is dropped and in both the last two, the first "m" is used for "b", the interchange of these two consonants being common in Indian languages. The name as recorded by these chroniclers was the name of a subdivision of the Chickasaws, not the historic Alabamas of later times.

The popular belief is that Alabama signifies, "Here We Rest." This etymology obtained a wide currency in the 1850's through the writings of Judge Alexander Beauford Meek. But the first account of the origin of the name as far as it is now known is contained in an issue of the Jacksonville Republican, Jacksonville, Alabama, July 27, 1842. Whether Judge Meek was the original author of the article is a question as yet unanswered.

Experts in the Moscogee dialect have been unable to find any word or phrase similar to Alabama or "Here We Rest." According to some investigations of Indianologists, the tribal name "Alabama" must be sought in the Choctaw tongue, as it is not uncommon for tribes to accept a name given to them by some neighboring tribe. Inquiry among the early Indians themselves appears to have yielded no information about the meaning of the word. The Rev. Allen Wright, a Choctaw scholar, translated the name as thicket clearers, compounded of Alba: a thick or mass vegetation, and amo meaning to clear, to collect, to gather up.

BOUNDARIES OF ALABAMA

Alabama is bounded on the west by the State of Mississippi, on the north by Tennessee, on the east by Georgia and on the south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico. The sections of the Code of Alabama 1975 contain a description of the State boundaries and found in Title 41-2-1 through 41-2-4, Vol. 22, pp. 5-7. The sections regarding the Florida-Alabama line are taken from Act #440 of the Regular Session of the 1953 Legislature.

§ 41-2-1. General description.

The boundaries of this state are established and declared to be as follows: Beginning at the point where the thirty-first degree of north latitude crosses the Perdido river; thence east to the western boundary line of the state of Georgia; thence along said line, to the southern boundary line of the state of Tennessee; thence west along the southern boundary line of the state of Tennessee, crossing the Tennessee river, and on to the second intersection of said river by said line; thence up said river to the mouth of Big Bear creek; thence by a direct line to the northwest corner of Washington county, in this state, as originally formed; thence southerly along the line of the state of Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico; thence eastwardly, including all islands within six leagues of the shore, to the Perdido river; and thence up the said river to the beginning. (Code 1852, § 15; Code 1867, § 16; Code 1876, § 12; Code 1886, § 12; Code 1896, § 623; Code 1907, § 83; Code 1923, § 85; Code 1940, T. 55, § 16.)

Note.—A strip twelve miles wide on the northern part of the State was ceded by South Carolina to the United States, and then granted to the Mississippi Territory. (Stat. of S.C., 1786-1814, V. 5).

Boundaries of Mississippi Territory, Toulmin's Digest,, p. 76; territory ceded by Georgia, Toulmin's Digest, p. 77; territory called Alabama, Toulmin's Digest, p. 78. (Aiken's Digest, p. 29, par. 4; p. 30, par. 6; Clay's Digest, p. 47, par. 4; p. 48, par. 6.)

§ 41-2-2. Boundary between Alabama and Georgia.

The boundary line between Alabama and Georgia commences on the west side of the Chattahoochee river, at the point where it enters the state of Florida; from thence up the river, along the western bank thereof, to the point on Miller's Bend, next above the place where the Uchee creek empties into such river; thence in a direct line to the Nickajack. (Code 1852; § 16; Code 1867, § 17; Code 1876, §13; Code 1886, § 13; Code 1896, § 624; Code 1907, § 84; Code 1923, § 86; Code 1940, T. 55, § 17.)

(Clay's Digest, p. 48, par. 9) In Howard v. Ingersoll, 17 Ala. 780, the boundary of the State, it was held commenced at a low-water mark, on the west side of the Chattahoochee river, from the point where it enters the present State of Florida, to the "great bend" next above the place where the Uchee creek empties into the said river. In other words, low-water mark on the west side of the Chattahoochee river was the line which separated the jurisdiction of the State of Alabama from the State of Georgia. On writ of error to the Supreme Court of the United States, the decision was reversed, a majority of the court holding that the boundary line between the two States, was not low-water mark on the west side of the Chattahoochee river, but a line running up the river on and along its western bank, and that the jurisdiction of Georgia extended to the line which is washed by the water wherever it covers the bed of the river within its banks. The permanent fast land bank governs the line. From the lower edge of the bank the bed of the river commences, and the jurisdiction of Georgia extends to the lower edge of the bank on the west side of the river. Nelson and Grier, JJ., dissenting, held that the true boundary line between the States of Georgia and Alabama, was not a line drawn on the bank or bluff of the river, at high-water mark, but the line marked by the permanent bed of the river, at high-by the flow of water at its usual accustomed stage, and where the water will be found at all times in the season, except when diminished by drought or swollen by freshet.—Howard v. Ingersoll, 13 Howard 54-US-381.

The boundary line between the States of Georgia and Alabama depends upon the construction of the following words of the contract of cession between the United States and Georgia, describing the boundary of the latter, namely:

The boundary line between the States of Georgia and Alabama depends upon the construction of the following words of the contract of cession between the United States and Georgia, describing the boundary of the latter, namely: "West of a line beginning on the western bank of the Chattahoochee river, where the same crosses the boundary between the United States and Spain, running up the said river, and along the western bank thereof."—State of Alabama v. State of Georgia, 23 Howard U.S 505.

"It is the opinion of this court that the language implies that there is ownership of soil and jurisdiction in Georgia, in the bed of the river Chattahoochee, and that the bed of the river is that portion of its soil which is alternately covered and left bare, as there may be an increase or diminution in the supply of water, and which is adequate to contain it as its average and mean stage during the entire year, without reference to extraordinary freshets of the winter and spring, or the extreme drought of summer or autumn."—Ibid.

The western line of the cession on the Chattahoochee river must be traced onthe water-line of the acclivity of the western bank, and along that bank where that is defined; and in such places on the river where the western bank is not defined, it must be continued up the river on the line of its bed, as that is made the average, and mean stage of the water, as that is expressed in the conclusion of the above recited paragraph."—Ibid.

By the contract of cession, the navigation of the river is free to both parties.—Ibid.

§ 41-2-3. Boundary between Alabama and Florida —Generally.

The boundary line between Alabama and Florida is the line commonly known as the "mound line," or "Ellicott's line," as distinguished from a blazed line known as the "upper" or "Coffee line," commencing at a point on the Chattahoochee river, near a place known as "Irwin's Mills;" and from thence to the Perdido river, marked the whole distance by blazes on the trees and by mounds of earth, at distances of about one mile. (Code 1852, § 17; Code 1867, § 18; Code 1876, § 14; Code 1886, § 14; Code 1896, § 625; Code 1907, § 85; Code 1923, § 87; Code 1940, T. 55, § 18.)

§ 41-2-4. Same — Precise location at mouth of Perdido river and adjacent thereto.

(a) The state of Alabama hereby ratifies, confirms and adopts the recommendations of the joint committee heretofore appointed by the governor of Florida and the governor of Alabama to locate and mark the boundary line between the said states at the mouth of the Perdido river and adjacent thereto. Said committee consists of Honorable Richard W. Ervin, Honorable Richard H. Simpson, Honorable Philip D. Beall and Honorable F. C. Elliot, all on the part and the state of Florida, and Honorable Earl M. McGowin, Honorable W. C. Pruett and Honorable William N. McQueen, all on the part of the state of Alabama.

(b) In accordance with the recommendations of the said joint committee, the boundary at the location referred to in subsection (a) of this section shall be as follows:

(1) The middle of the Perdido river at its mouth, as defined by the constitutions of the states of Alabama and Florida, is at latitude 30° 16′ 53″ north and longitude 87° 31′ 06″ west as the control point;

(2) That the boundary line at the mouth of Perdido river is fixed, as nearly as may be, in the axis of the mouth of said river, passing through the control point and running north and south and having as its northern terminus a point of latitude 30° 17′ 02″ north and longitude 87° 31′ 06″ west, and as its southern terminus a point 1,000 feet due south of the control point;

(3) That from the northern terminus of the boundary line at the mouth of the river, the boundary up the lower portion of said river be a straight line to a point at latitude 30° 18′ 00″ north, longitude 87° 27′ 08″ west, thence by a straight line to a point in the center line of the Intracoastal Canal at longitude 87° 27′ 00″ west;

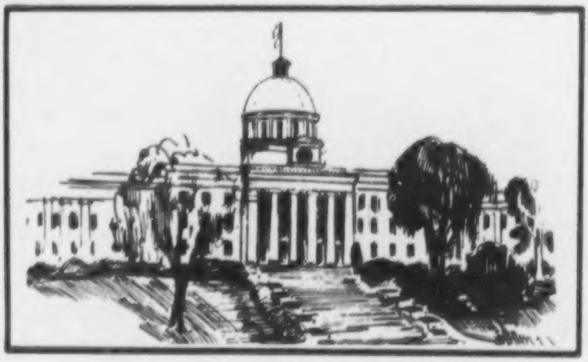
(4) That the seaward boundary between Florida and Alabama extends from the south end of the boundary line at the mouth of Perdido river, thence south 0° 01′ 00″ west to the seaward limit of each respective state;

(5) And shall be deemed, taken and declared, and is hereby deemed, taken and declared, to be the boundary line between the states of Florida and Alabama, at the mouth of the Perdido river and adjacent thereto, and shall be deemed and taken as such by the authorities and people of this state....

CAPITALS OF ALABAMA

During its existence as a territory and a state since 1817, Alabama has had five capitals. Saint Stephens was designated in the Congressional act creating the territory as the temporary seat of government, and there two sessions of the territorial legislature were held. The first Constitutional Convention assembled in accordance with the enabling act in Huntsville in 1819 and the first session of the State legislature was held there in the same year.

The territorial legislature, however, had chosen Cahaba (also spelled Cahawba) as the site for the capital of the state, and the second session of the legislature met there in 1820. Cahaba was designated as the seat of government in the Constitution, but the legislature was required at the session of 1825-1826 "to designate by law (to which the executive concurrence shall not be required) the permanent seat of government, which shall not thereafter be changed." Cahaba proved to be a poor choice because its location was unhealthy and suffered periodic floods. In 1826 Tuscaloosa was chosen as the location of the capital, and there it remained until the session of 1845-1846. At this time after a sharp contest among many rival towns, Montgomery was selected. The previous session had proposed a constitutional amendment striking out the section, "permanently locating the seat of government" and this amendment was adopted at the polls.



Capitol of Alabama
Montgomery, 1851

Supposedly Andrew Dexter [one of the founders of Montgomery) believed from the first that Montgomery would eventually become the State Capital and refused to sell the location on which the capitol was cons-tructed. The hill was called 'Goat Hill' because it served as a congregating place for that type of animal. When the Marquis de Lafayette visited the city in 1825 an unsuccessful attempt was made to rename the spot, 'Lafayette Hill.' Not until after 1846 did the location achieve the dignified title, 'Capitol Hill.'" (AHQ 26 (1964) p. 3). 'Goat Hill' is still an affectionate name for the capitol and its surrounding state complex by Montgomerians.

In selecting Montgomery the legislature expressly provided by act that the State should be put to no expense in securing lands or in erecting a capitol building. The citizens of the town at once organized under the leadership of Charles Teed Pollard, Albert James Pickett and others, secured the site, and began the erection of a building. Bonds for $75,000 were issued by the municipality to pay for the construction. These bonds were taken up by local real estate dealers and by local capitalists. The Greek Revival plan of the new capitol was drawn by Stephen D. Button; the contractors were B. F. Robinson and R. W. R. Bardwell. The building was completed and presented to the State at the legislature's first biennial session in Montgomery, December 6, 1847. On December 14, 1847 during the second session the building was destroyed by fire. On February 11, 1850 the legislature made an appropriation of $60,000 with which the central section of the present building was erected on the foundations of the burned structure. A new architect, Barachias Holt, was engaged to design the second capitol.

During the 1870-1872 period several improvements were made to increase the convenience and beauty of the lower floor of the building. From the time it ws completed in 1851 until 1885 no increase in its capacity was made. On February 17, 1885 the legislature appropriated $25,000 for the "needed enlargement." This expenditure resulted in the erection of the east wing.

In 1903 the legislature appropriated $150,000 with which the south end of the capitol square was purchased then privately owned, and the south wing was erected in 1905-1906; and in 1911 an appropriation of $100,000 was made for a north wing to be added.

In 1977 an ornamental column of the capitol dome collapsed, and in 1978 restoration of the dome was begun along with major exterior restoration and renovation of the entire statehouse scheduled to be comleted in 1981.

THE GOVERNOR'S MANSION

The first residence for Alabama's chief executive ever purchased was acquired in 1911 at the cost of $46,500 for the house and sundry furnishings. Built in 1906 by Moses Sable the building was located on the southwest corner of South Perry and South Streets. In 1911 a special mansion commission of seven members was provided by Act #24 and authorized to contract for the erection, purchase or improvement of a residence and the acquisition of grounds. The commission's complement included Governor Emmett O'Neal, Attorney General Robert C. Bricknell, Secretary of State Cyrus B. Brown; Director of the Archives and History, Thomas M. Owen and three Montgomery city/county residents: Michael H. Screws, William T. Sheehan and William G. Covington. Governor O'Neal was the first to occupy the mansion. (Acts-1911, #24, p. 20.)

Governor's Mansion, 1951-1979

On October 13, 1950 a state commission authorized to acquire land near the Capitol, consisting of Governor James E. Folsom, Attorney General Albert A. Carmichael, and Supreme Court Justice Joel B. Brown, purchased from the heirs of the late General Robert Fulwood Ligon, his home on 1108 South Perry Street, only a few blocks away from the existing mansion. The purchase price was $100,000 which was paid by the Capitol Building Commission with an additional appropriation by the Legislature in June 1951.

Built around 1907 the new mansion is very handsome in the Neo-Classical Revival style with Corinthian columns at the front. It has a spacious interior with a double staircase leading from the foyer to the apartments above. At the rear of the mansion is a formal garden with the property extending through the block to South Court Street and is surrounded by a high ornamental wall.

Governor Gordon Persons and his family were the first to occupy the former Ligon home as a Governor's Mansion moving in on the day of his inauguration, January 15, 1951. The old mansion was used as a State office building housing the Adjutant General's Office and the Military Department of Alabama until May 14, 1959 when it was sold to the Montgomery Academy, a private school. It was subsequently demolished prior to the construction of U. S. Interstate 85.

[1] Term of office for the governor until 1901 was two years with no more than four years in a six year period. In 1901 the constitution changed the term of office to four years with no succession. In November 1968 the constitution was amended to permit the governor to succeed himself one term.

[2] Governor William Wyatt Bibb died July 10, 1820, and was succeeded by his brother, Thomas Bibb who was president of the Senate.

[3] Governor Gabriel Moore resigned March 3, 1831 to take his seat in the U.S. Senate.

[4] Governor Clay resigned July 17, 1837 to fill a seat in the U.S. Senate left vacant by John McKinley.

[5] In April 1868 after the surrender of the military department of the Confederate government to the Federal authorities, Governor Watts was arrested, and sent to a northern prison. There was an interregnum of two months before Governor Parsons was appointed provisional governor.

[6] Governor Patton's term was ended July 1868 under the reconstruction acts of the United States Congress.

[7] Governor Lewis was not inaugurated on that date on account of the contest between Democratic and Republican claimants for the office. Governor Lewis, a Republican, was recognized about one week later.

[8] Governor Samford was out of the State because of ill health on the date for his inauguration. Jelks was president of the Senate and took the oath of office as acting governor until Samford was able to assume his duties. Samford died June 11, 1901, and Jelks became governor.

[9] Governor Jelks was elected to a full term, the first four-year term as provided by the 1901 Constitution.

[10] Dr. Cunningham was the first lieutenant governor to serve as governor during the absence from the State of the chief executive.

[11] Under a provision of the 1901 Constitution the lieutenant governor assumes the duties of governor if the governor is out of the State for more than 20 days. Governor Brandon, as chairman of the Alabama delegation to the Democratic Convention of 1924 remained in New York City throughout the convention which lasted 21 days. Lieutenant Governor McDowell took the oath of office as acting governor and served for two days.

[12] Because of illness Governor Lurleen Wallace was out of the State for more than twenty days; on July 25, 1967 Lieutenant Governor Brewer became acting governor until Governor Lurleen returned later the same day and resumed her duties. Governor Lurleen died May 7, 1968 at 12:45 a.m. and Governor Brewer took the oath of office at 1:00 p.m.

[13] Lieutenant Governor Beasley served as governor while Governor George Wallace was out of the State recovering from an assassination attempt.

OFFICIAL HOLIDAYS OF ALABAMA

From time to time the law determining legal public holidays for the State has been amended as may be traced through the Code of Alabama since 1852. From the earliest days of the territories, Sunday, Christmas Day, New Year's Day and July 4th have been celebrated but apparently without legal approval. Legal holidays are designated by law as exempt from judicial proceedings, service of process, demand and protest of commercial paper, etc.; a day designated for purpose within meaning of term "holiday," e.g., a religious festival, a day set apart for commemorating some important event in history, a day of exemption from labor.

On September 12, 1969 the Legislature by Act #1103 (S-Bill #113) revised dates for observing previously legally established holidays as follows:

Sunday
Christmas Day
New Year's Day
Robert E. Lee's Birthday (January 19)
George Washington's Birthday (February 22)
Mardi Gras (Shrove Tuesday before Ash Wednesday: Lent)
Thomas Jefferson's Birthday (April 13)
Confederate Memorial Day (April 26)
Jefferson Davis' Birthday (June 3)
Fourth of July
Labor Day (first Monday in September)
Columbus Day and Fraternal Day (October 12)
Veterans' Day (formerly Armistice Day, November 11)
Day designated by the Governor for public thanksgiving.

If any of the preceding holidays falls on a Sunday, then the Monday following is the holiday. Also Act #1103 directed that the following holidays will have Monday observances: Lee's Birthday, the third Monday in January; Washington's Birthday, the third Monday in February; Confederate Memorial Day, the fourth Monday in April; Jefferson Davis' Birthday, the first Monday in June; Columbus Day and Fraternal Day, the second Monday in October; and Veterans Day on the fourth Monday in October.

However, Act #46 of the 1975 First Special Session returned Veterans' Day commemorating Armistice Day of 1918, from the fourth Monday in October to its historical date of November 11, and specified that all state, county and municipal offices, all banks and public schools shall be closed. The Superintendent of Banks with the concurrence of not less than two members of the State Banking Board, may authorize any State Bank (non-Federal Reserve) to close on National (federal) Memorial Day, May 30, and on such other days as may be declared by the Governor to be state holidays in honor of a special event. In the event any authorized state holiday falls on Friday, the Superintendent of Banks may authorize the Saturday following that Friday to be a holiday. The Superintendent may also authorize the closing of banks at 12 noon on the day prior to Christmas day and the day prior to New Year's day, if such days fall on business days. (Acts-1969, #1103, p. 2040; Acts-1971, Special, #49, p. 87; Acts-1975, Special, #46, p. 94.)

THE GREAT SEAL OF ALABAMA

Early in 1817 William Wyatt Bibb, newly appointed Governor of the Alabama Territory requested the Secretary of State of the United States, John Quincy Adams, "to provide proper seals for the officers of the Territories," as authorized in an act of Congress, May Territory with its principal rivers." Around the map were encircled the words, Alabama Executive Office. A seal and screw press were dispatched, and in use by November 1818, and the Seal was adopted by the Constitution of the State of Alabama, 1819, (Article IV, Sec. 12) with the Governor as custodian. In 1852 custody of the Seal was transferred to the Office of the Secretary of State.

The Great Seal
of Alabama
1939

The Constitution of 1864 provided for a seal, to be kept by the Governor, and the "Seal now in use" is to be continued until another is adopted by the Legislature. On December 26, 1868 at the height of bitterness following the Civil War, the Reconstruction Legislature abolished the old Seal and replaced it with a new design: "In the center of the Seal there shall be a representative of an eagle and a shield...there shall be the words, Here We Rest," a now discredited etymological explanation of the name, "Alabama." Circling the emblem were the words, Alabama Great Seal. (Acts-1868, #133, p. 477; Code-1868, v.1, §3727, p. 1033.)

of Alabama

During the Special Session of the 1939 Legislature, Senator Daniel T. McCall of Mobile introduced Bill #18 to restore the original Seal as the Great Seal of Alabama. There was no dissenting vote in either the Senate or House. Once again the people of Alabama had a Great Seal that carried the map of Alabama showing the rivers of the State. (Acts-1939 Special, #20, p. 22; Alabama Historical Quarterly, v. 1 (1930), pp. 342-349.)

THE COAT-OF-ARMS OF ALABAMA

No state in the Union has a more historically significant coat-of-arms than Alabama's. Through the influence of Juliet Perry Dixon, wife of Governor Frank M. Dixon, official action was taken by the Legislature when Bill #90 was introduced by Senator James Alexander Simpson of Jefferson County, and was passed March 14, 1939 without a dissenting vote by both houses. (Acts-1939, #140, p. 176.)

Coat-of-Arms of Alabama

The Coat-of-Arms consists of a shield quartered with a centered escutcheon on which appear the emblems of the five governments which have held sovereignty over Alabama during the past 400 years: the lilies of France, the Union Jack of Great Britain, the castles and lions of Spain, the battle flag of the Confederacy, and the shield of the United States of America. The shield is supported on either side by an American bald eagle. The crest is representative of the full-rigged ship, Baldine, in which Iberville and Bienville sailed from France and settled the first French colony at Mobile in 1699, and signifies that Alabama is a maritime state. The motto beneath the shield in Latin is Audemus Jura Nostra Defendere, (phonetically pronounced: ou-do-mus yara nostra de-fen-de-re); in English this means "We Dare Maintain Our Rights." Beneath the motto is the State name, Alabama.

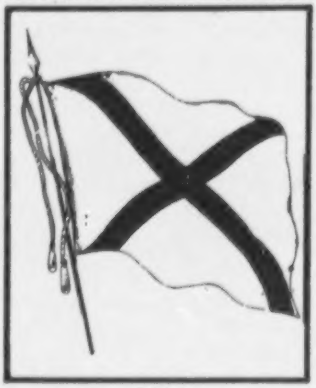
The heraldric bearing of Alabama was devised in 1923 by B. J. Tieman of New York, a distinguished authority on heraldry, at the request of Marie Bankhead Owen, then Director of the Alabama Department of Archives and History. A few years later Naomi Rabb Winston of Washington, D.C. was commissioned to paint the completed designs in oils. Mrs. Owen selected the motto which was translated into Latin by William Burney Saffold, professor of Greek and Latin, University of Alabama.

THE STATE FLAG

The Flag of the State of Alabama was adopted by an act of the Legislature, February 16, 1895 by Bill #1051 introduced into the House of Representatives by J. W. A. Sanford, Jr. (Acts-1895, #383, p. 719.) The following is the statutory description taken from the Code of Alabama, 1975, Title 1, Chapter 2:

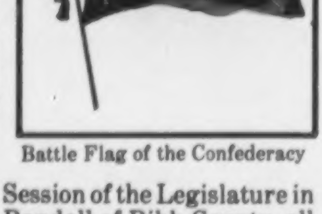
§ 1-2-5. Flag of the state—Description. The flag of the state of Alabama shall be a crimson cross of St. Andrew on a field of white. The bars forming the cross shall be no less than six inches broad, and must extend diagonally across the flag from side to side."

§ 1-2-6. Same—Diplay. The flag of the state shall be hoisted on the dome of the capitol when the two houses of the legislature are in session, and shall be used by the state on all occasions when it may be necessary or customary to display a flag, except when, in the opinion of the governor, the national flag should be displayed."



Flag of Alabama

From this description and from the design submitted with the original bill, the flag apparently was intended by the Legislature to preserve some of the features of the Confederate Battle Flag, particularly the Saint Andrew's cross. This being true the Alabama Flag should be square and should conform to the Battle of the Confederacy (designed by General Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard) whose regulations state that the flag must be 48 inches square with the arms of the cross being eight and one-half inches wide all over, that the blue arms with a white border and bars must cross each other at right angles, and that the ends of the bars must divide equally at each corner.



Battle Flag of the Confederacy

Under the Act #444 of the Regular Session of the Legislature in 1923 sponsored by Senator George W. Randall of Bibb County, all schools supported in part or in whole by public funds must display properly the Flag of the United States and the Flag of the State of Alabama every day when school is in session. (Acts-1923, #444, p. 590.)

Until Alabama seceded from the Union the United States flag was used on all formal occasions. However, when the Secession Convention met in Montgomery on January 14, 1861 and withdrew from the Union, a flag was made by the Ladies of Montgomery and presented that day to the Convention. This flag is known as the Secession Flag of Alabama or the Flag of the Republic of Alabama.

The obverse design on a dark blue field is the Goddess of Liberty holding in her right hand an unsheathed sword. In her raised left hand is a flag with one star and the word, Alabama; above is the motto, Independent Now and Forever. On the reverse is the Great Seal of Alabama over a large cotton plant in full fruit and bloom. A rattlesnake is placed at the roots of the cotton, and beneath is written, Noli Me Tangere and translated, "Tread Not On Me."

This flag floated over the dome of the Capitol until February 10 when lowered because of inclement weather, and then placed in the Governor's Office for safe-keeping. There it remained until confiscated by a Federal soldier accompanying Major General James H. Wilson's Raiders on April 12, 1865. For many years this flag reposed in a museum display case in Des Moines, Iowa and labeled as a "Captured Confederate Battle Flag". After many years of negotiations on February 27, 1939 the Iowa Legislature voted to return the flag to the State of Alabama. It was brought to Montgomery by an official Iowa delegation: two members of the Iowa Legislature and a member of the Iowa Grand Army of the Republic as an honor guard and presented to Governor Frank M. Dixon at a joint session of the Alabama Legislature on May 8, 1939.

SALUTE TO THE ALABAMA FLAG

Flag of Alabama I salute thee. To thee I pledge my allegiance, my service, and my life.

THE STATE FLOWER

The Camellia was named the State Flower by the Legislature on August 26, 1959 and introduced by Representatives Folsom L. Glass and Hiram B. Taylor of Butler County. Originally the Goldenrod had been the official state flower, being envisioned as such by Aurora Pryor McClellan of Huntsville, and sponsored by Representative Thomas M. Martin of Montgomery County and passed by the Legislature, September 6, 1927. (Acts-1927, #541, p. 627; Acts-1959, #124, p. 646.)

Act #124 does not specify which variety of Camellia is officially designated. The Alabama unofficial colors being red and white (those of the State Flag), it has been suggested that until some botanical species is fixed by the Legislature, that the State Flower is therefore the Red Camellia.

THE STATE BIRD

The Yellowhammer (emberiza citrilella), the State Bird of Alabama, is a member of the finch family and is also known as the Yellow Bunting and the Yellow Shafted Flicker. The Yellowhammer was selected because Alabama had been known as the "Yellowhammer State" since the Civil War.

This name was applied to Confederate soldiers from Alabama when a company of cavalry known as Kelly's Troops from Huntsville arrived at Hopkinsville, Kentucky, headquarters of General Nathan Bedford Forrest. The Madison County company wore new uniforms whereas the soldiers who had long been on the battlefield were dressed in faded, worn uniforms. The sleeves, collars and coattails of the new cavalry troops were trimmed with brilliant yellow cloth. As the company rode past Company A of Forrest's own regiment, a soldier named Will Arnett who was considered a great humorist, cried out, "Yallerhammer, Yallerhammer, flicker, flicker, flicker!" This greeting brought a roar of laughter, and from that moment the Huntsville soldiers were spoken as the "Yellowhammer Company," The term quickly spread through the Confederate Army and all Alabama troops then were referred to unofficially as the "Yellowhammers".

Confederate veterans in Alabama wore yellowhammer feathers in their caps or on lapels during their reunions, and were very pleased when a bill was introduced by Representative Thomas E.

Martin of Montgomery County and was passed by the Legislature, September 6, 1927. (Acts 1927, #452, p. 628.)

THE STATE TREE

The Southern Pine was specified as the State Tree of Alabama by the Legislature of 1949, but Representative Hugh Kaul of Birmingham who introduced the bill said that the Long Leaf Pine was meant. There are twelve species of pine that grow in the Southern states; the "big four" are the long leaf, the slash pine, the loblolly and the short leaf. (Acts 1949, #143, p. 169.)

THE STATE HORSE

The Racking Horse, admired for its smooth gait, endurance and rapid pace, was named the official State Horse, October 10, 1975 by resolution sponsored by Senator J. Richmond Pearson of Jefferson County. (Acts-1975, #1153, p. 2278).

THE STATE FRESH and SALT WATER FISH

The Tarpon (tarpon atlanticus) the noted fighting and sport fish ranging off the coast of Alabama and Mobile Esturary was named the official Salt Water Fish of Alabama, September 9, 1955 in a bill written by Representatives Michael T. Murphy, Otto E. Simon and John M. Tyson of Mobile. (Acts-1955, #564, p. 1226.)

In 1975 the Largemouth Bass (micropterus punclatatus) was designated and named the official Fresh Water Fish of Alabama; the bill was sponsored by Senators J. Richmond Pearson and George McMillan of Jefferson County. (Acts-1975, #1183, p. 2315.)

THE STATE MINERAL and THE STATE ROCK

Red Iron Ore or Hematite, important to the State economy in the iron and steel industry of Alabama since 1863, was chosen the State Mineral being sponsored by Senators Pascal P. Vacca, John H. Hawkins, Jr., and George Lewis Bailes, Jr. of Jefferson County. (Acts-1967, #503, p. 1215.)

Then on September 12, 1969 the stone, Marble (calcium carbonite), was named the official Rock of the State of Alabama because of its varied art and industrial uses. Marble has many large deposits in the State and has been quarried in ten Alabama counties since 1840. The bill was sponsored by Representative Philip H. Smith of Talladega County. (Acts-1969, #755, p. 1334.)

THE STATE SONG, ALABAMA

The poem, Alabama, originally sung to the air, Harwell or to the tune of the Austrian national anthem, was written about 1869 by Julia Strudwick Tutwiler, later one of the leading educators of Alabama, after she returned from studying in Europe. Miss Tutwiler found that the people of Alabama were depressed by the problems of Reconstruction following the Civil War, and felt that her State needed a spirited and patriotic song.

The music by which it is sung now was written by Edna Gockel-Gussen of Birmingham, and entered in the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs' competition at Federation's annual convention of 1917, where it won first prize. Through the Federation's efforts Mrs. Gockel-Gussen's original musical setting was sponsored in the House Joint Resolution #74 by R. Tyler Goodwyn, and was adopted by the Legislature, March 9, 1931. (Acts-1931, #126, p. 190.)

Lyrics and Music to the State Song, Alabama.

Al - a - bam-a, Al - a - bam - a, we will aye be true to thee,
From thy South-ern shores where grow-eth By the sea thy o-range tree.
To thy North-ern vale where flow-eth Deep and blue thy Ten-nes - see,—
Al a - bam - a, Al - a - bam - a, we will aye be true to thee

Broad the Stream whose name thou
bearest;
Grand thy Bigbee rolls along;
Fair thy Coosa—Tallapoosa
Bold thy Warrior, dark and strong,
Goodlier than the land that Moses
Climbed lone Nebo's Mount to see,
Alabama, Alabama,
We will aye be true to thee!

From thy prairies broad and fertile,
Where thy snow-white cotton shines,
To the hills where coal and iron
Hide in thy exhaustless mines,
Strong-armed miners—sturdy farmers;
Loyal hearts whate'er we be,
Alabama, Alabama,
We will aye be true to thee!

From thy quarries where the marble
White as that of Paros gleams
Waiting till thy sculptor's chisel,
Wake to life thy poet's dreams;
For not only wealth of nature,
Wealth of mind hast thou to fee,
Alabama, Alabama,
We will aye to true to thee!

Where the perfumed south-wind
whispers,
Thy magnolia groves among,
Softer than a mother's kisses,
Sweeter than a mother's song;
Where the golden jasmine trailing,
Woos the treasure-laden bee,
Alabama, Alabama,
We will aye to true to thee.

Brave and pure thy men and women,
Better this than corn and wine,
Make us worthy, God in Heaven,
Of this goodly land of Thine;
Hearts as open as our doorways,
Liberal hands and spirits free,
Alabama, Alabama,
We will aye be true to thee.

Little, little, can I give thee,
Alabama, mother mine;
But that little—hand, brain, spirit,
All I have and am are thine,
Take, O take the gift and giver,
Take and serve thyself with me,
Alabama, Alabama,
I will aye be true to thee!

POET LAUREATE OF ALABAMA

The honorary office of Poet Laureate of Alabama created in 1931 by act of the Legislature was sponsored by Senator Richard H. Powell of Macon County. The dignity is an elected one by the Alabama Writers' Conclave, an organization of fiction writers, poets, journalists and historians, and is commissioned by the Governor of Alabama. The term of office is indeterminate. (Acts-1931, #92, p. 168.)

CHAPTER II

CONSTITUTIONAL & EXECUTIVE OFFICES: DEPARTMENTS, COMMISSIONS, COMMITTEES, BOARDS

The State of Alabama derives its current structure and organization from the Constitution of Alabama of 1901 and its 393 amendments. Sources for the chapter are taken mainly from the Acts of Alabama, the Code of Alabama-1975, and the Register of Appointments of State Officials, circa 1919-1982, Governor's Office.

THE EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT — OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

The office of the Governor was in effect as early as 1699 upon the establishment of French Louisiana; See: Governors of Alabama. The enabling act of Congress of March 3, 1817 based on the Northwest Ordinance of 1787, the Constitution of 1819 and all subsequent constitutions of the State of Alabama restated this office. The 1901 Constitution provided for the election of governor by the State-at-large in 1902 and every four years thereafter, and he was not eligible as his own successor. The governor was not eligible for election or appointment to any office under the State, or to the Senate of the United States during his term, and within one year after expiration of his term of office. The Amendment No. 282 in 1967 to the 1901 Constitution, ratified in November 1968, limited this officer to succeed himself no more than one additional term.

SENATORS & REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS

Congressional representation in Congress for the territories was specified in the ordinance of 1787 which stated, "As soon as a legislature shall be formed in the district, the council and house, assembled in one room, shall have authority, by joint ballot, to elect a delegate to congress, who shall have a seat in congress, with the right of debating, but not of voting during this temporary government." (Code-1907, v. 1, p. 19.)

The following gentlemen, all from the Mississippi side of the territory, served beginning with Narsworthy Hunter in the Seventh Congress, March 4, 1801 until his death in Washington, D.C., March 11, 1802. Thomas Marston Greene took his seat December 6, 1802 to complete Mr. Hunter's term as of March 3, 1803. William Lattimore, M.D., served for the next two congresses, March 4, 1803 through March 3, 1807. George Poindexter replaced Dr. Lattimore in the 10th, 11th and 12th Congresses from March 4, 1807 through March 3, 1813. Then Dr. Lattimore was re-elected for the 13th and 14th Congresses from March 4, 1813 through March 3, 1817. Upon the formation of the Alabama Territory, Colonel John Crowell of Fort Mitchell, temporarily residing in Saint Stephens, was chosen the new territory's representative and served from January 29, 1818 to March 3, 1819. Colonel Crowell was also the first representative to the U.S. House of Representatives from the State of Alabama from December 14, 1819 to March 3, 1821.

CHAPTER IV

ALABAMA JUDICIARY

Under the Northwest Ordinance of 1787 by which the organization of the Mississippi Territory was based in 1798, three judges were appointed to constitute the highest court, and with the governor to adopt such laws of the existing United States as deemed applicable. During the 1799-1800 period the judicial-executive laws pertained mainly to the militia, judicial courts, probate courts, sheriffs, coroners, treasurers, marriages, liquor retailers and taverns.

Comprised of judges appointed by the President of the United States the court was an appellate tribunal with original jurisdiction over graver crimes and the summoning of grand juries. Until 1800 when a session was required on the Tombigbee (Washington County was created June 4, 1800) the court only sat in the two original county districts of Adams and Jefferson. There was a superior court in each county to which an inferior court was to nominate 36 jurors.

In 1804 Congress authorized an additional judge to preside over a superior court in Washington County, and in 1810 a judgeship was created for Madison County on the Tennessee river. An act of Congress in 1805 provided that Mississippi Territorial judges sitting as the Superior Court should in all cases in which the United States was concerned had the right to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

In 1807 Congress passed an act requiring that there be two attorneys general each for East and West of the Pearl river. The first attorney general for the Eastern section was Nicholas Perkins. His successors were Lemuel Henry in 1809 and James Carson from 1813 to 1817. Louis Winston was attorney general for Madison County from 1809 to 1817. William Crawford was appointed as attorney for the United States, Mobile region in 1814. The first U.S. Marshall for the territory was John Haines, 1813 to 1818.

In 1807 an inferior court system was created and was to continue until the end of the Mississippi Territorial period. The governor appointed five citizens as justices of the quorum and of the peace for each county, one of which was commissioned as the chief justice of the county's orphans court. During this time there were a circuit court system sitting in each county, a district superior court system presided by territorial judges as well as the territorial supreme court. In 1809 the supreme court and the district superior court were abolished and the territorial judges were required to hold superior courts of law and equity in each county.

In 1811 a supreme court of errors and appeals was created to meet twice a year in the Adams County Courthouse with two territorial judges holding court. The judges of Washington County in the Mobile region and Madison County on the Tennessee river were not required to attend.

William McGuire of Virginia was nominated as the first chief justice, June 26, 1798 and was confirmed two days later by the United States Senate. He arrived in Mississippi during the summer of 1799 and left the territory by the fall of that year. Here follows the judiciary of the Mississippi Territory, 1798-1817.

The Alabama Territorial judiciary was composed of Obadiah Jones of Madison County, Stevenson Archer who held court at Saint Stephens remained on the Alabama bench until admission of Alabama as a state in 1819, and Henry Young Webb who was appointed to judge by President James Monroe and reappointed after statehood by Governor William Wyatt Bibb.

The Constitution of 1819 established the supreme court of Alabama whose powers were vested with such inferior courts as might be constituted by the Legislature. The judges of the newly-created circuit courts were required to serve as justices with stated meetings to be held at the seat of government to hear cases on appeal. The first session met Monday, May 8, 1820 at Cahaba.

In 1832 a supreme court was created with three judgeships elected by the General Assembly (Legislature) to six-year terms. Then in 1851 the judges were increased to five seats and in 1854 lowered to three seats.

The Alabama Constitution of 1867 in obedience to the reconstruction laws of the United States Congress provided for the election of the Alabama judiciary by direct popular vote. In 1889 the court was enlarged to four judges, in 1891 to five judges, then in 1904 to seven, and in 1969 to nine judgeships.

In 1969 the Legislature of the State of Alabama abolished the court of appeals created in 1911, which had consisted of three judgeships. The 1969 law established two separate appellates, one a criminal court with a presiding judge and four associate judges, and one civil court with a presiding judge and two associate judges. The criminal appeals court has the power to hear every appeal in criminal cases and to issue such writs as deemed necessary in aid of its appellate jurisdiction.

The civil appeals court has original appellate jurisdiction in all civil appeals cases when the controversy does not exceed $10,000. It hears all appeals from all State administrative agencies (except the Alabama Public Service Commission), all workmen's compensation cases and all domestic relations cases of annulment, divorce, adoption and child custody.

The Judicial Article VI of the 1901 Constitution of Alabama with its related amendments, #317 and #323, was repealed by the 1973 Legislature vesting in its place a unified judicial system composed of a supreme court, a court of criminal appeals, a court of civil appeals, a circuit court of general jurisdiction, a district court of limited jurisdiction, a probate court and municipal courts stating powers and functions of such courts and delegating respective authority. Presented for statewide approval, the new amendment to the Constitution was passed 73,609 yea and 44,840 nay votes during the General Election of December 18, and proclaimed ratified December 27, 1973 as Amendment #328.

According to the Constitution's Judicial Article of 1973 the supreme court may superintend and review any case of law heard or appealed in all courts of Alabama. Cases may be appealed directly to the supreme court; however, all criminal and many civil cases must go either to the criminal or the civil appeals courts first.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS. Within the System's formation, a new agency, was created first known as the Department of Court Management then changed to the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) with the Chief Justice as chief administrative officer of all trial courts. The purpose of the AOC is to work with clerks and registrars to collect, compile and analyze information and statistics, to conduct court administrative projects, educational programs for judges and court supportive personnel. The AOC specializes in court planning, public information and services, legal research, data systems, educational and fiscal procedures. In cooperation and approval with the Alabama Records Commission a records retention program has been established.

DISTRICT COURT JUDGES

County judicial organization has had several changes in the past several years. In 1971 the offices of justice of the peace and notaries public with powers and jurisdiction of a justice of the peace were abolished by a constitutional amendment (Act of Alabama, 1971, #1585, H-664, Vol. 4, p. 2713). To replace the justice of the peace and notary courts the Legislature established a justice court of limited jurisdiction within the county judicial framework.

In 1973 the Unified Judicial System instituted a trial court of limited jurisdiction with judges to handle small claims, issue writs of arrest, impose and suspend sentences, establish probation, remit fines and court costs, to determine all issues of law and fact without a jury.

CHAPTER V

LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA

Early History. — The legislative body of the Mississippi Territory was composed of the governor and three judges, all appointed by the president of the United States as stated in the Ordinance of 1787. In his early history of Alabama, Albert James Pickett commented, "The people of the territory, becoming dissatisfied with the arbitrary measures of the Governor [Winthrop Sargent], remonstrated with the President [John Adams]. These things, together with a prodigious increase of population, induced Congress to establish a second grade of territorial government, which allowed a Legislature." Four representatives from Pickering County, four from Adams County and one from Washington County were authorized to meet at Natchez as the governing body with a house of representatives and a legislative council. As the population increased, so would the representation. A proposal to modify the governor's powers of veto and prorogation was not included in the act of Congress of May 10, 1800.

At an organizational session of the General Assembly on September 22, 1800, Governor Sargent administered the oath of office to Cato West, Thomas M. Green, John Burnet and Thomas Calvit from Pickering County (the name changed to Jefferson County, January 11, 1802) and Henry Hunter and Hoggatt with Anthony Hutchins and Sutton Bankes being seated later for Adams County. John Flood McGrew was elected from the Tombigbee-Tensas area to be the representative from Washington County. Judge McGrew was not seated by virtue of an opinion by the territorial judges Bruin and Lewis who ruled that the August 16, 1800 election was not legal because the Congressional act of May 1800 stated that the day of election should have been July 28. The delay of election was caused by the Governor's courier who was carrying the election instructions, lost his horse while traveling through Indian Country, and did not arrive in Washington County in sufficient time to deliver the orders to the sheriff.

The Legislative Council (Senate) was selected from the general assembly by the president of the United States from a list submitted by the governor of the territory. James Titus of Madison County was the only person to serve as president of the Council from this area, 1816-1817. In the future Alabama territorial legislature, Mr. Titus would perform as both president of the Council and member, alone evaluating, passing or rejecting all legislation.

There were two future Alabamians to serve as Speaker of the House of Representatives: Nicholas Perkins of Washington County and in 1803 and Gabriel Moore of Madison County from 1815 to 1817.

CHAPTER VI

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS OF ALABAMA

According to Pickett's History of Alabama, John Pierce sponsored the first "American" school circa 1799 in the Tensas area at the "Boat Yard" for local settlers' families. The earliest seminary or college established by the Mississippi Territorial General Assembly was Jefferson College at Ellicott's Springs near the town of Washington in 1802. It was not until December 17, 1811 that the Washington Academy was chartered in the extreme eastern area of the territory in Washington County. Three years later on December 14, 1814 the General Assembly provided an act establishing an academy in Washington County or Clarke County also by the name of Washington Academy. Apparently the 1811 enactment was not pursued for in later legislation, December 12, 1816, the Washington County school was referred to as the St. Stephens Academy, and later was incorporated as the St. Stephens Academy on February 2, 1818 by the Alabama Territorial General Assembly. When the town of Saint Stephens lost population and commercial importance after 1819, the schools there began to decline. On November 25, 1812 Green Academy was incorporated by the General Assembly for Huntsville, Madison County, and remained in existence for 52 years until its buildings were destroyed by fire in 1864 by the Union Army.

In an 1816 enactment Jefferson College, Green Academy and St. Stephens Academy were authorized funds from the Territorial Treasury either by loan or by grant. This school financing was made possible by the March 3, 1803 act of Congress which provided for the survey and sale of public lands by reserving sales and tax monies from Section 16 in each township for support of schools within the territory. This article also appeared in the enabling act of March 2, 1819 of Congress which authorized the holding of a constitutional convention for Alabama and the following extract is taken from the Constitution of Alabama of 1819:

"Schools and the means of education shall for ever be encouraged in this state, and the general assembly shall take measures to preserve from unnecessary waste or damage, such lands as are or hereafter may be granted by the United States for the use of schools within each township in this state, and apply the funds, which may be raised from such lands, in strict conformity to the object of such grant.

"The general assembly shall take like measures for the improvement of such lands as have been, or may be hereafter granted by the United States to this state, for the support of a seminary of learning, and the moneys which may be raised from such lands, by rent, lease, or sale or from any other quarter, for the purpose aforesaid, shall be and remain a fund for the exclusive support of a state university, for the promotion of the arts, literature, and the sciences: and it shall be the duty of the general assembly, as early as may be, to provide effectual measure for the improvement and permanent security of the funds and endowment of such institution." (Toulmin, 1823, p. 539.)

CHAPTER VII

MILITARY DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE & ALABAMA NATIONAL GUARD

The military establishment of Alabama has been in existence since the early days of the Mississippi Territory and was known as the Militia. By the Ordinance of 1787 which set the organization of the Northwest Territory west of the Ohio and the Mississippi Territory, the governor as commander-in-chief of the militia was empowered to commission all officers under rank of general officer which appointments Congress reserved. On September 8, 1798 Governor Winthrop Sargent ordered the militia to include all free male territorial inhabitants between 16 and 50 years of age for duty in cavalry and infantry companies of 64 men, rank and file to form two regiments with two lieutenant colonels as commanding officers. The first Saturday of each month was fixed as assembly and drill day with four field days per year.

The first territorial military commissions for Washington County (now what is south Alabama) was issued on June 5, 1800 by Governor Sargent with Adam Hollenger as captain; on June 6, 1800 Joseph Stiggins was appointed captain, [John] Flood McGrew and William Pierce, lieutenants, David Johnson and John Lindor, ensigns. In early 1802 John Caller and Nathaniel Christmas were appointed majors, 3d Regiment of Washington County by Governor William C. C. Claiborne. Later that year brigade major and inspector, Israel Elliot Trask was dispatched to Washington County to organize the Tombigbee militia, originally the Third Regiment and by 1809 known as the Sixth Regiment.

In 1807 a militia law was passed requiring the enrollment of every free white male citizen, 16 to 50 years of age, except territorial executive and judicial officers, ministers of the gospel, keepers of public jails and ferries. Each trooper was to provide himself with a "good musquet or fire-lock, a sufficient bayonet and belt, two spare flints, a knapsack, a pouch, with a box to contain therein not less than twenty four cartridges suited to the bore of his musquet or fire-lock, to contain proper quantity of powder and ball; or with a good rifle, knapsack, shotpouch and powder-horn, twenty balls suited to the bore of his rifle, and a quarter of a pound of powder; shall appear so armed, accoutred and provided, when called out, to exercise, or into service, except when called out on company days to exercise only, when he may appear without knapsack. The commissioned officers severally shall be armed with a sword or hanger [swordbelt] . . ."

The basic plan was for one regiment of two battalions in each county, of as many companies of 45 persons, rank and file as could be formed, the whole to comprise one brigade, its officers were a brigadier general, one brigade inspector-major. For each regiment a lieutenant colonel, each battalion a major, each company a captain, a lieutenant and ensign, four sergeants, four corporals, a drummer, a fifer or bugler. The non-commissioned officers were appointed by the captain. Regimental staff officers were an adjutant, a quartermaster, a paymaster, a surgeon, a surgeon's mate, sergeant major, a drum major, and a fife major who were appointed by the commanding officer.

Each company was required to hold a quarterly muster; there was a battalion muster in February and a regimental muster in October. The governor was empowered to call out the militia as he deemed necessary for possible insurrections or invasions. Active service was governed by the Articles of War and the same pay and rations as the United States Army were issued. There were also a patrol system to regulate and discipline disorderly persons and slaves, and a system of fines and forfeitures to regulate enrollment and attendance at musters and drills. The disciplinary system was administered by courts martial made up of appointed officers.

In 1808 James Caller was appointed lieutenant colonel, Sixth Regiment, Washington county replacing his brother, John Caller who resigned. Nicholas Perkins was appointed lieutenant colonel for the Seventh Regiment, Madison County in 1809. In 1810 James Caller, Sixth Regiment, Washington County, Peter Perkins, Seventh Regiment, Madison County; Joseph Carson, Eighth Regiment, Baldwin County were commissioned as lieutenant colonels. In 1811 Joseph Pulaski Kennedy began serving as brigade major East of the Pearl river. In 1812 William McGrew, 15th Regiment, Clarke County, Charles Burris, 16th Regiment, Madison County, Zenon Orso, 14th Regiment, Mobile were appointed. James Powell replaced Joseph Carson as the Eighth Regiment's commander in Baldwin, and Thomas Powell was selected for Mobile's 14th Regiment in 1813. During 1814 Reuben Saffold began serving as commandant for the 15th Regiment, Clarke County and John Hinson for the 14th in Mobile. In 1815 the following lieutenant colonels were appointed: Arthur Foster, Eighth Regiment, Baldwin (July-September) and Theophilus Toulmin replaced him in October; David Files in February for the 14th Regiment, Mobile, and his successor in December, Lewis Judson; Samuel Dale for the 20th Regiment, Monroe County and William H. Winston for the Seventh Regiment, Madison County.

By 1814 the territorial governor could accept volunteers from exempted persons and could commission them if needed to defend their counties in emergencies, but members of the territorial legislature were still exempt. The militia could be called in to supply United States troops if needed. In 1816 the regimental unit consisted of two battalions with a colonel, a lieutenant colonel and a major. A regiment could be formed of two battalions from two counties whose populations could not support a separate regiment. These battalions could not leave their own counties for a regimental muster and had to have a separate muster. At this time exemptions from militia duty were coroners, justices of the peace, physicians and public jail keepers; however they could be drafted into actual service.

In 1818 brigade status and the rank of brigadier general were repealed by the Alabama territorial legislature with the governor authorized to establish regiments, battalions and companies as deemed necessary, and to call out any part of the militia when the public safety was in jeopardy or upon call by the United States government. These laws were in force until the organization of the State militia under the 1819 Constitution of Alabama and later State laws.

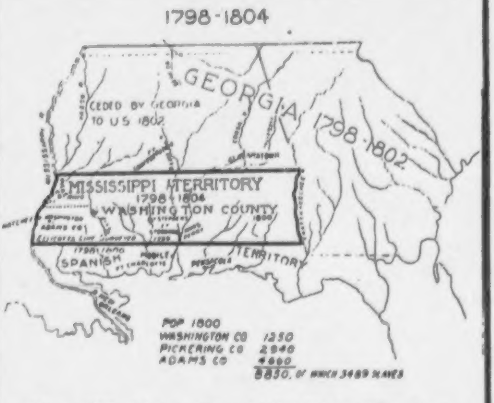
CHAPTER VIII

COUNTIES AND COUNTY OFFICIALS

The land forming the present state of Alabama was consolidated by United States Congressional action, Indian and European treaties, actual occupation by United States military forces, and settlement by farmers, trappers, traders and adventurers. The United States Congress created the Mississippi Territory by an enabling act of April 7, 1798, and its basic organization was taken from the Northwest Territory Ordinance of 1787.



Map of Washington County, Mississippi Territory circa 1800

When Washington County was created in 1800 its boundaries included all territory east of the Pearl River to the Chattahoochee River and between the northern latitude parallels of 31st degree and 32d degree 28 minutes. McIntosh's Bluff was on the west side of the Tombigbee River is considered the first county seat. Some of its officials were James Fair, Judge of Probate; Wilson Carmen, Sheriff; Samuel Mims, Treasurer; John Flood McGrew, Coroner; and Samuel Clark, Clerk of the Courts and Recorder.

In 1817 the Mississippi Territory was divided, and the eastern part was organized into the Alabama Territory with its boundaries to begin at Bear Creek on the Tennessee River, then to the northwestern corner of Washington County, then due south with the western limits of that county to the sea. Seven counties were formed within this area.

The following information regarding the development of the counties of Alabama was taken from Thomas McAdory Owen's HISTORY OF ALABAMA AND DICTIONARY OF ALABAMA BIOGRAPHY, 1921, Volume 1, page 422.

"HISTORY. — The first county in order of formation was Washington, June 4, 1800, and the last, Houston, February 9, 1903. Washington, 1800, Madison, 1808, Mobile, 1812, and Monroe 1815 were all created by proclamation of the Governor[s] of the Mississippi Territory. The counties of Baldwin, 1809, Clarke, 1812, and Montgomery, 1816 were established by the Mississippi Territorial Legislature. These counties were all that were established when the Alabama Territory was created by Act of Congress March 3, 1817.

"The first session of the first Territorial Legislature created Blount, Cahaba (now Bibb), Conecuh, Cotaco (now Morgan), Dallas, Franklin, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Limestone, Marengo, Shelby and Tuscaloosa; and the second session the counties of Autauga and Saint Clair. The first state legislature, 1819, established Butler, Greene, Henry, Jackson, Jefferson, Perry and Wilcox. The second session, 1820, created Pickens. The third session, 1821, Covington and Pike, the fifth session, 1823, Walker; the sixth session, 1824, Dale and Fayette; and the eleventh session, 1830, Lowndes.

"The Creek cession, 1832, [Treaty of Cusseta] of conferring east Alabama was organized by the establishment of Barbour, Benton (now Calhoun), Chambers, Coosa, Macon, Randolph, Russell, Talladega and Tallapoosa. Sumter County was formed [in] 1832 from the Choctaw cession. Out of the Cherokee cession were made Cherokee, DeKalb and Marshall. [See: Acts of Alabama, 1832-1833, p. 9.] In 1841 the legislature created Coffee, and in 1847 Choctaw.

"No others were formed until immediately following the civil war, when there were many changes, including Bullock, Clay, Cleburne, Crenshaw, Elmore, Baine (now Etowah), and Lee, 1866. Colbert, Hale and Jones (now Lamar), 1867; Chilton, Escambia, Geneva, 1868; Cullman, 1877, and Houston, 1903. These counties are variously named. See page . Ten bear names of Indian origin."

CHAPTER IX

CITY & TOWN OFFICIALS

"Early Municipal Charters. — The first municipal legislation was enacted by the legislature of the Mississippi Territory, November 11, 1803. It authorized a town to be laid out in Washington County to be known as Maconsbay. On January 8, 1807, authority was given to lay out another town [unnamed in the enabling act] in Washington County, near St. Stephens. This act repealed the one establishing Maconsbay. Authority was given, February 1, 1805, to lay out the town of Wakefield in Washington County, and commissioners appointed to establish the town and administer its government. The town of Rodney, in the same county, was authorized to be laid off by act of March 25, 1811. From this time until 1821 some twelve or fifteen towns were authorized by legislative enactments. Huntsville, first called Twickenham, was authorized by act of December 23, 1809; its name was changed November 25, 1811; incorporated December 9, 1811; and its corporate limits extended November 16, 1818. The town of St. Stephens was established and incorporated by act of December 18, 1811. Several other towns which have since attained considerable importance were founded during the period mentioned — among them Tuscaloosa, incorporated December 13, 1819; Montgomery, incorporated December 3, 1819, Elyton, now Birmingham, incorporated December 20, 1820; Demopolis, incorporated December 11, 1821.

"The first incorporated city [in the state of Alabama] was Mobile, chartered by act of December 17, 1819, as 'Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Mobile.' The first general act, applying to all municipalities alike, which became a part of the law of the State, was passed by the legislature of the Mississippi Territory, December 23, 1815." (OWEN: 1921, v. 1, p. 266.) It reads, "Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Legislative Council and House of Representatives of the Mississippi Territory, in general assembly convened, That any precept or warrant, issued for any fine or penalty incurred by any of the by-laws of any incorporated city or town in this territory, may be made returnable forthwith." (TOULMIN: 1823, Ch. XXI, p. 796.)

"The first cities in Alabama to adopt commission government were Birmingham and Montgomery, in which it became effective on the same day, April 10, 1911, but in slightly different forms, and under separate enabling acts of the legislature. Mobile inaugurated the new plan on August 14, 1911 under a third act of the legislature.

"The appended list shows the commission governed cities of the State and the dates of adoption of the plan: Birmingham, Apr. 10, 1911. Carbon Hill, Sept. 23, 1911. Cordova, Sept. 4, 1911. Florence, Aug. 31, 1914. Haleyville, Nov. 6, 1911. Hartselle, Aug. 16, 1911. Huntsville, June 19, 1911. Mobile, Aug. 14, 1911. Montgomery, Apr. 10, 1911. Sheffield, Aug. 22, 1912. Sylacauga, July 12, 1912. Talladega, Aug. 4, 1911. Tuscaloosa, June 26, 1911." (OWEN: 1921, v. 1, p. 310.)

Municipalities-1979. — There are 425 Alabama cities and towns in which there are 14 governed by commissions. The other 410 entities are operated by the Mayor-Council organization. Most of the latter class of municipalities hold elections every four years. Commission elections usually select one commissioner each year on a staggered basis, and those with a special option plan elect all commissioners at the same time.

Of the original 13 cities governed by the commission plan, only Florence, Mobile and Tuscaloosa have retained it. At the present time Bessemer, Brundidge, Cherokee, Dothan, Gadsden, Jasper, Madison, Muscle Shoals, Opelika, Troy and Tuscumbia have the other current commission governments.

CHAPTER X

NEWSPAPERS & PERIODICALS

Early highlights: In 1810 Harry Toulmin advertised the publication of a newspaper, The Mobile Mercury or Tombigbee and Alabama Advertiser for the Tensaw area of the Mississippi Territory in the June 30 issue of the Knoxville, Kentucky Western Centinel. However, there are no issues nor later contemporary mention of its publication. In 1811 pioneer newsmen, John B. Hood of South Carolina and Samuel Miller of Tennessee established the weekly Mobile Centinel at Fort Stoddert: four pages of four columns per issue at an annual subscription fee of $4. These titles were misnomers because Mobile was still in Spanish possession, and would not come under control of the United States until April 1813 when the town and garrison surrendered to General James Wilkinson.

In the spring of 1813 the Mobile Gazette, a weekly, was founded by James Lyon and in 1816 was sold to Godwin Brown Cotton. The Gazette was purchased in 1822-1823 by Jonathan Battelle and John W. Townsend, then publishers of the semi-weekly Mobile Commercial Register. With this consolidation the Register has provided continuous news service for South Alabama since 1813. Samuel Miller, former partner of John B. Hood, published the Blakeley Sun and Alabama Advertiser, a semi-weekly paper with Gabriel F. Mott for seven months during 1818-1819.

Thomas Eastin, a former Tennessee militia quartermaster under Andrew Jackson when visiting Mount Vernon Arsenal near Fort Stoddert, found a damaged printing press and supplies piled in the street. After purchase of the equipment Eastin removed it to Saint Stephens, and published the first issue of The Halcyon just in time to print the news of the Treaty of Ghent ending the War of 1812 between the United States and Great Britain.

In 1820 a pioneer woman editor and publisher, Augustina Parsons, issued the weekly Alabama Watchman at Cahaba. Its length of publication is unknown since the 1820 editions are the only ones known in existence. Also from Cahaba at this time was the Cahaba Press and Alabama Intelligencer issued by William B. Allen and a Mr. Lamar in 1819, and later by Allen and Richard B. Bricknell.

In the North Alabama-Tennessee Valley area the Madison Gazette appeared in early 1812 as a weekly with Thomas G. Bradford of Kentucky as editor, and William W. Parham as editor in 1814. This paper was followed by the Huntsville Republican edited by John B. Hood of the Mobile Centinel fame in 1816. Its title successor was the Alabama Republican in 1820 with John Broadman as editor and Thomas B. Grantland as publisher. The Huntsville Democrat founded in 1823, its editor being William B. Long and the Southern Advocate and Huntsville Advertiser in 1825-1826 were two more of the earliest newspapers in Madison County.

The Florence Gazette began issue in 1820 being published by Peter Bertrand of Kentucky. The Tuscaloosa Republican began in 1819 and was edited by Thomas Davenport. Its name was changed in 1820 to the American Mirror and then to the Tuscaloosa Chronicle in 1827.

The Selma Times-Journal founded in 1825 as the Selma Times, the Montgomery Advertiser, and the Moulton Advertiser of Lawrence County both founded in 1828 have had continuous existence since their organization. In 1873 the Talladega Reporter was formed by the consolidation of the Democratic Watchtower (1839), the Alabama Reporter (1843, and The News (n.d.) In 1927 the Talladega Reporter was sold, moved to Columbiana and its title changed to the Shelby County Reporter, thus giving this newspaper continuous service since 1839. Other newspapers having longevity are the Sheffield Standard & Times from 1829 and the Clarke County Democrat of Grove Hill since 1856 and are still in operation.

The following list includes titles of all known current newspapers and periodicals printed and published in the State of Alabama from available information. The arrangement of the list is alphabetical by location: city and county, date of establishment, political affiliation if any and periodicity of issue are given.

Unfortunately many titles may have been omitted although effort and research have been made to discover all that are now being published. Our department will gladly welcome any additions or corrections. Sources for the list are taken from the '79 AYER DIRECTORY OF PUBLICATION, and the inventories and research data of the Newspaper Collection, Civil Archives Division and the Periodical Collection, Library Division of the Alabama Department of Archives and History.

CHAPTER XI

U.S. POST OFFICES, BRANCHES AND STATIONS IN ALABAMA

"The Acts of Congress, dating from the very earliest days of the Alabama Territory, and extending to 1845 show numerous references to the establishment of post routes between given points in Alabama. These given points were necessarily postoffices, and the mail of that early day was carried by rider on horseback. Some of the routes listed extended from points in Georgia, entirely through the State and into Mississippi, therefore there were necessarily relays of carriers.

"Shown below are the routes as established by the several Acts of Congress, and listed in the U.S. Statutes at Large. They are arranged chronologically.

"In Alabama Territory. — From Ft. Claiborne [Alabama Heights] by Fort Montgomery to Blakely.

From Huntsville, by Milton's Bluff, Falls of Black Warrior, and French Settlement on Black Warrior to St. Stephens.

From Huntsville to Cotton Port, in Limestone County, by Pulasky to Columbia, in Tennessee.

From Fort Mitchell, by Fort Bainbridge, Fort Jackson, Burnt Corn Springs, Fort Claiborne, and the town of Jackson to St. Stephens.

From Fort Jackson, by Cahaba Valley, to the Falls of Black Warrior.

From St. Stephens, by Winchester, to Ford, on Pearl river, in Mississippi.

From Mobile to Blakely. — Act of Congress, April 20, 1818, U.S. Statutes at Large, vol. 3, p. 457.

"In the Alabama Territory. — From Huntsville, to Moorsville, in Limestone County.
From Cahaba to St. Stephens.
From Burnt Corn Spring, Monroe county, by Blakely, to Mobile in Mobile County.

From Cahaba to Tuscaloosa.

From Huntsville, in Alabama territory, by Shelbyville and Fayetteville, to Murfreesboro in Tennessee. — Act of Congress, March 3, 1819, U.S. Statutes at Large, vol. 3, p. 508." (OWEN: 1921, v. 2, p. 1136.)

"Early Mail Bags. — The Postmaster General of the United States, in 1815, 'for the purpose of securing the letter mail,' directed Postmasters in the Mississippi Territory to provide Deer skin bags dressed in oil. The Postmaster at Nashville was instructed to 'secure' his mail in Linen bags which had been oiled. He wanted to experiment to see which one was best and which would give the most 'security against the water.' They were told to place the Letter Mail in these bags closely and strongly tied so that it would offer the least possible friction from the movement from the horse." (Brannon: "Through the Years," May 3, 1942.)

CURRENT POSTAL LISTINGS

The following list of post offices in the State of Alabama is taken from the U.S. Postal Service National Zip Code and Post Office Directory-1980 through October 1979. All post offices, named stations an named branches, including rural stations and branches, community post offices and places (place names recognized as delivery addresses), are listed in alphabetical sequence. Stations and branches are also indented under the parent post offices. Numbered and lettered contract stations and branches and numbered money order units are not included in this list.

Stations are subordinate postal units located within the corporate limits of the city or town where the parent office is situated.

Branches are subordinate postal units not located within the corporate limits of the city or town where the parent office is situated. Contract stations and branches are operated under a contractural agreement between the Post Office and an individual contractor. Community post offices are contract units which provide service in small communities.

The post office entries show the ZIP code and county name. Offices having city delivery service are indicated by the letter "C" following the class of office. Only the first three numbers are shown for offices having more than one ZIP code. It is necessary in these instances to refer to the National ZIP Code Directory to determine the proper Zip code for a specific mailing address.

These abbreviations and symbols are used throughout the list:
B — Branch (Indicates contract branch unless followed by an "x.")
C — Offices having city delivery service
CPO — Community post office
G — Post offices located in Government buildings
P — Place name recognized as delivery address.
RB — Rural branch) Henceforth known as CPO
RS — Rural Station)
S — Station (Indicates contract station unless followed by an "x.")
U — Money order unit.
x — Classified unit

CHAPTER XII

ELECTIONS AND ELECTION STATISTICS

Since 1819 the Constitution of Alabama has provided for the returns of all elections for all civil officers who are commissioned by the governor, and for all members of the general assembly [the legislature as of 1901] to be made to the office of the secretary of state. In the 1875 Constitution the included exemptions were the secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer and attorney general. In the 1901 Constitution the superintendent of education and the commissioner of agriculture and industries were added to the exceptions. (Skinner A.C.A., p. 684.) In 1969 the superintendent of education was removed as an elected constitutional officer by Amendment 284, ratified December 16, 1969, and is therefore not presented as he is now an appointed official by the state board of education. (Code-1975, v. 1, p. 343; v. 2, p. 225.)

General elections throughout Alabama are held for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, auditor, secretary of state, treasurer, commissioner of agriculture and industries, three public service commissioners, chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, judges of the courts of appeals and electors for president and vice president of the United States, United States senators and such other officers as may be required by law to be elected by voters of the entire state; for a member of congress in each congressional district; judges of the circuit courts in each district; district attorneys in each judicial circuit, a senator in each senatorial district, a representative in the legislature in each house district; a judge of the probate court, sheriff, clerks of the circuit courts, deputy circuit clerks in counties for which they are provided, tax assessor, tax collector, a county treasurer in counties of more than 56,000 population, as provided by law, coroner and members of the county commission in each county and constables in each precinct of the county as well as members of the county boards of education. (Code-1975, Titles 17-2-2 and 17-2-5.) These elections are scheduled by law on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November and usually every four years thereafter with some variation depending on the term of office for a particular office, e.g., county boards of education members, chief and associate U.S. senators for six years, and U.S. representatives to Congress every two years. (Code-1975, Title 17, Chapter 2, Sections 1-11)

Special elections are held on such a day as directed by the governor (1) when a vacancy occurs in the office of senator or representative of the legislature when the legislature will be in session prior to the next general election for office; (2) when a vacancy occurs in the office of representative in the congress of the United States by which Alabama may be deprived of its full representation at any time congress will be in session prior to the next general election for that office; (3) whenever any general or special election for members of the legislature or for representatives in congress is not held; (4) when any vacancy occurs in any state or county office filled by the election of the people not otherwise provided by the Constitution or laws of Alabama; (5) in such other cases as are or may be provided by law. (Code-1975, Titles 17-18-1 and 17-18-2.) All special elections are ordered by gubernatorial writs of election to sheriffs to the counties who must present notice by proclamation of the time, place and object of such elections. (Code-1975, Titles 17-18-3 and 17-18-5.)

Returns of elections for proposed amendments for the Constitution are sent to the secretary of state to be opened and counted in the presence of the governor and attorney general or either of them, then to be made known by proclamation of the governor. (Code-1975, Titles 17-17-2 and 17-17-3.) The secretary of state receives the results of elections for presidential and vice presidential electors which are opened within five days of the election by the governor in presence of the secretary of state and attorney general or either of them to estimate and assertain the results and to notify the electors by proclamation. (Code-1975, Titles 17-19-4 and 17-19-5.)
